HEIGHTENED SAFETY PERIOD

Additional measures with HSP extension of 3 months from 1 March 2023 to 31 May 2023

On 10 Feb 2023, the Ministry of Manpower (MOM) issued a press release announcement that the heightened safety period (HSP) will be extended by three months from 1 Mar 2023 to 31 May 2023. With additional measures introduced.

Senior Minister of State for Manpower, Mr Zaqy Mohamad said “We have made good progress following the HSP, with improvements seen in the annualised workplace fatality rates and within the Construction sector. This shows that tangible results in WSH performance is possible with concerted efforts from all stakeholders. However, we are still not where we want to be – which is why we remain cautious and have decided to extend the HSP with additional measures. Only with vigilance, greater ownership and continual training, can we get back on track to achieving our WSH 2028 goals of keeping our fatality rate at below 1.0 per 100,000 workers, and our major injury rates at below 12.0 per 100,000 workers.”

The HSP was first introduced on 1 September 2022 for six months, with stronger measures to address the concerning rise in workplace fatalities. The annualised workplace fatality rate per 100,000 workers improved during the HSP, falling from 1.5 for January–August 2022, to 0.8 for September–December 2022. The full year fatality rate for 2022 was 1.3 per 100,000 workers.

However, the annualised major injury rate per 100,000 workers increased from 16.8 to 18.7 in that same period. The impact of HSP was also uneven across sectors. While Construction showed the most improvement in terms of monthly average fatal and major injuries, the Transportation & Storage sector’s monthly average fatalities did not improve and its major injuries worsened during HSP. This is of concern, as major injuries reflect persistent safety lapses at workplaces and most of these injuries have debilitating effects.

Since the start of 2023, there have been four workplace fatalities. Furthermore, based on past trends, periods post-Chinese New Year have had higher workplace injury numbers as companies rush to compensate for workdays lost. Heightened alert and vigilance need to be maintained.

# INDUSTRY NEWS & TRENDS

HEIGHTENED SAFETY PERIOD

During the extended HSP, MOM will put in place the following additional measures, taking into account the recommendations of the International Advisory Panel last month, to complement existing ones:

- Require CEOs and Board of Directors to attend a mandatory half-day in-person WSH training course, for companies found to have serious WSH lapses following serious or fatal workplace accidents.

This is on top of existing HSP measures where companies may be barred from employing new foreign employees for up to three months. We will continue to require company leaders to personally account to MOM and take responsibility for WSH rectifications. These measures aim to strengthen WSH ownership and accountability among corporate senior leadership, and better equip them to meet their WSH responsibilities.

The course curriculum will be an enhanced version of the existing bizSAFE training for senior management. It will feature additional modules on the Approved Code of Practice for Chief Executives and Board of Directors' WSH Duties, and root cause analysis of top incident types. MOM will notify companies whose senior leaders are required to attend this training.

- Increase maximum fines from $20,000 to $50,000 for breaches of WSH Act Subsidiary Legislation that could result in death or serious bodily injury, in order to enhance deterrence for WSH Act breaches.

- Empower workers by raising awareness of the various channels to report WSH concerns and providing protection for workers who speak up.

HEIGHTENED SAFETY PERIOD

- Introduce bite-sized versions of WSH guidance materials to better support all companies, in particular SMEs, in instilling a stronger safe operations culture. This is in addition to the earlier expansion of the StartSAFE programme to better support SMEs. The WSH Council will introduce these materials from May 2023.

The WSH Council will launch a National WSH Campaign in April 2023, to encourage workers and members of the public to report unsafe practices at workplaces. Workers are encouraged to first report WSH concerns to their supervisors and companies for expedient resolution, before raising it to the authorities if no action is taken. This can be easily done through the SnapSAFE page on MOM's website, and a QR code leading to the page is displayed at worksites. Workers and members of the public can also call MOM's hotline at 6438 5122.

Migrant workers can also reach out to MOM through the FWMOMCare app, or reach the Migrant Workers' Centre at 6536 2692. The Campaign will also heighten awareness of the types of protection available for workers who report or raise WSH issues.

HEIGHTENED SAFETY PERIOD

Longer-term Measures to Sustain WSH Standards

MOM, together with the Multi-Agency Workplace Safety Taskforce (MAST), will consider further measures to strengthen WSH standards and practices. These include placing

- Greater accountability on employers and senior management,
- Enhancing safety training,
- Reviewing incentives and penalties
- Sectoral strategies.

A CRACKED POT

A water bearer in India had two large pots, each hung on each end of a pole which he carried across his neck. One of the pots had a crack in it, and while the other pot was perfect and always delivered a full portion of water at the end of the long walk from the stream to the master's house, the cracked pot arrived only half full.

For a full two years, this went on daily, with the bearer delivering only one and a half pots full of water in his master's house. Of course, the perfect pot was proud of its accomplishments, perfect to the end for which it was made. But the poor cracked pot was ashamed of its own imperfection and miserable that it was able to accomplish only half of what it had been made to do.

After two years of what it perceived to be a bitter failure, it spoke to the water bearer one day by the stream. "I am ashamed of myself, and I want to apologize to you". The bearer asked, "Why? What are you ashamed of?" The Pot replied, "For these past two years I am able to deliver only half of my load because this crack in my side causes water to leak out all the way back to your master's house. Because of my flaws, you don't get full value for your efforts".

The water bearer felt sorry for the old cracked pot, and in his compassion, he said, "As we return to the master's house, I want you to notice the beautiful flowers along the path." As they went up the hill, the old cracked pot took notice of the sun warming the beautiful wild flowers on the side of the path, and this cheered it somewhat. But at the end of the trail, it still felt bad because it had leaked out half its load, and so again it apologized to the bearer for its failure.

The bearer said to the pot, "Did you notice that there were flowers only on your side of your path, but not on the other pot's side? That's because I have always known about your flaw, and I took advantage of it. I planted flower seeds on your side of the path, and every day while we walk back from the stream, you've watered them. For two years I have been able to pick these beautiful flowers to decorate my master's table. Without you being just the way you are, he would not have this beauty to grace his house."

MORAL

Each of us has our own unique flaws. We're all cracked pots. In this world, nothing goes to waste. You may think like the cracked pot that you are inefficient or useless in certain areas of your life, but somehow these flaws can turn out to be a blessing in disguise."

EARTH DAY

APRIL 22

This year, 2023, marks the 53rd year of the Earth Day celebration. The significance of this day is more important than before as our planet continues to face harsh environmental realities such as climate change and biodiversity loss.

Environmental issues such as landfill, pollution and deforestation are threatening our ecosystems at a pace of change, which is happening faster than expected. According to recent data by NCCS, from 1980 to 2020, the annual mean temperature of Singapore increased from 26.9°C to 28.0°C. Due to such unprecedented challenges, we cannot afford to be complacent in our approach towards our own environment.

The responsibility for our planet is shared between governments and individuals. So this Earth Day - let's pledge to make a few changes in our everyday habits to reduce our carbon footprint, conserve natural resources, and promote sustainable practices.

Simple steps that everyone can take to help the environment are:

01

Awareness: Learn about the degradation of the environment and educate your friends and family. Use your voice through physical and digital communication to spread awareness about conservation.

02

Sustainable travel: Commute using public transport or carpool to work and school; walk or cycle wherever possible to reduce your carbon footprint.

03

Preserve resources: Save water, go paperless, use all food and leftovers, use solar power and sunlight, and switch off electrical appliances after use.

04

Reduce waste: Quit using plastic bags, bottles and cutlery, shop only when needed and use every new purchase for as long as possible.

05

Recycle: Paper, plastic, metal and clothing are easy to recycle and reuse.

Let's use this Earth Day (22 April 2023) to take action with a few simple changes to safeguard the planet for our future generations.

Each one of us can make a difference!
